

CU Technical Assistance (TA) Team

We are evaluation specialists housed at the Colorado School of Public Health at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus, and we partner with communities and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment to support the Community Organizing for Prevention (COFP) statewide initiative.

As your technical assistance providers, we work with communities to build capacity in prevention science and local evaluation as well as coordinate networking spaces to promote relationship building and shared learning experiences. We also lead the statewide evaluation of COFP to understand how the core components of COFP impact change at the community level.

Local Evaluation

Our goal is to make evaluation more community-centered and available to bolster community efforts. We approach our work with an anti-oppression lens, holding equity at the forefront of all our support.

- Conducting assessments and evaluations to understand disparities and inequities
  - Supporting the development of local evaluation plans
- Understanding intersection between COFP components and statewide evaluation plan
- Building local capacity around data collection using quantitative and qualitative methods like surveys or focus groups
  - Interpreting and using HKCS and SDOH data for local decision making
- Reviewing statewide evaluation results and reports for continuous quality improvement
